NEWSLETTER

No. 1 September 2018

President's Message from Ted Packard

A hearty welcome to the U of U Professors Emeriti Club, 2018-2019, and to the initial edition of this year's monthly newsletter. And a special "Ute red carpet" greeting to our new members. Hearty thank-you's also to Dennis Alexander and Jeff Paoletti, recently retired board members who provided great service to all. We're delighted to add three new board members and also to thank our returning board members for their excellent work and devotion to our club--please see the listing at the end of this message with their names and contact information.

The Rocky Mountain Innocence Center: Actual Innocence and Wrongful Convictions in Utah

Jencie Anderson, a professor at the U of U College of Law and currently the Rocky Mountain Innocence Center (RMIC) Legal Director, will speak at our October 9 luncheon about the work of the RMIC in the Intermountain West and its place in the national innocence movement. The RMIC is a non-profit organization working to correct and prevent the wrongful conviction of innocent people in Utah, Nevada, and Wyoming. RMIC advocates for systemic reforms to improve our justice system and to create meaningful opportunities for the wrongfully convicted to prove their innocence and to receive compensation for their time spent behind bars. RMIC, in coordination with the Innocence Clinic at the University of Utah, provides innocence investigation and litigation services entirely for free and has had six exonerations in its 18-year history.

Special thanks as well to Cathy Anderson, U of U Chief Financial Officer, and Sandy Hughes, Director of Budget and Planning, for providing needed U of U financial support, and to Jane Laird, new Administrative Officer in the Academic Senate Office, who gives us ongoing and all-important administrative support.

Our October 9 luncheon will entice your palate with the ever-popular salmon entrée, and our special speaker, Law School Professor Jencie Anderson will discuss the Rocky Mountain Innocence Center, as it functions to enhance justice in our judicial system. On November 13, Robert Gehrke, SL Tribune political columnist, will share his perceptions of the November 6, 2018 mid-term elections. And December 5 (a Wednesday luncheon) will once again feature Barlow Bradford and the acclaimed University Chorale, in a special holiday concert. Following months will feature past Emeriti president Joe Bentley speaking on Wicked Problems, retired Utah Supreme Court Chief Justice Christine Durham discussing the Utah Supreme Court, History Professor and Director of the Tanner Humanities Center Robert Goldberg on American Conspiracies, Health Sciences Professor Jennifer Plumb on the Opioid Crisis, and to end the year on an upbeat note Michael Scolamiero, new Executive Director, will share Ballet West with us. We're excited about this year's luncheons and think you will be too.

This and subsequent Emeriti Newsletters will detail hiking and outdoor activities with our very energetic Hiking Club, discount tickets for UT Symphony Final Touches rehearsals, free Pioneer Theatre preview performances, $1 vouchers for School of Music performances, and a soon to be announced exhilarating European tour. Additional benefits available to emeriti faculty and their partners are detailed on page 5. And finally, in the words of Julia Kleinschmidt in her 2013 president's welcome, "Please join us. It's said there is strength in numbers, but with this group there is also collegiality, learning, experiencing, support, and fun. Yes, do join us!"

A Special Volunteer Opportunity from the Bennion Center

September 22, 2018: Legacy of Lowell

This project is in honor of Lowell Bennion, a beloved former Dean of Students at the University of Utah and namesake of the Bennion Center, who made a habit of convening groups on Saturday mornings to help those in need. The project runs from 8:00 a.m. through noon and begins at Glendale Middle School. See <https://bennioncenter.org/> for a link to Legacy of Lowell for more information and to register.

Thanks to Kathleen Kaufman!

Kathleen took notes on Ken Verdoia's talk on April 10 and sent a summary of those notes to Ken for his input and clarification. She has his permission to make them available to Emeriti Club members. Find them on our website: <https://academic-senate.utah.edu/professors-emeriti-club/>

Your Professors Emeriti Club is offering a fall "extra" activity that is really extra special:

A group tour of

Mirror/Mask

Marisa Moran Jahn

Utah Museum of Fine Arts

Thursday, November 8, 2018 at 1pm

UMFA describes this unique, captivating special exhibit as "a project by New York City-based artist Marisa Moran Jahn (Studio REV) whose work uses mirrored masks to explore how we see ourselves reflected--or distorted--in others. It delves into ideas of identity, presentation and self-reflection through an immersive exhibition."

The artist has drawn on her fascination with Asian, African, and Greek rituals, and she uses her mask art to examine our Western means of self-presentation. The art will be exhibited both in UMFA's ACME Lab (an exhibition space for art experimentation and exploration) and as works juxtaposed with UMFA permanent galleries art. UMFA is offering this special tour to us at no charge, but, prior to this extraordinary experience, let's plan on lunch in UMFA's café which supports our remarkable art museum.

We will need to provide UMFA with the attendee numbers expected on the tour and at the cafe

Please complete and submit the form on Page 7 by November 1

Parking is available east of the Museum, either in the free lot with a limited number of spaces reserved for the Museum, or in the automated pay lot—also free to Emeriti provided you have registered your vehicle with U Parking Services.

Get Ready for the Emeriti Club Tour 2019

We still have a few bits and pieces to confirm before we can announce where our tour will take us* this coming year, but it promises to be the hot new destination. We will be getting in ahead of the crowds! And it is very reasonably priced! Plus we'll have access to a 10% early booking discount until Nov. 27 and anyone who traveled with us in 2018 will receive a further $150 "welcome back" discount as well! So keep an eye on this space and discover what wondrous corner of the globe we will visit with our Emeriti friends in spring 2019!

**Call Activities Co-Coördinator Michele Margetts (801-582-2806) if you can't wait until October*

The Emeriti Hiking Group Welcomes New Emeriti Faculty

In 1996, after hearing a lecture by Dr. Robert Dustman, Neuropsychologist, on the benefits of exercise, Winn Margetts, Betty Organic and Barbara West suggested forming a hiking group. Three women: Betty, Barbara, and Priscilla Horton planned, organized and led hikes during the year. The next year several additional women joined the group. By the third year it was coeducational. A succession of organizers followed including Bill Ohlsen and Jim King. We brought along our friends and welcomed new long-time staff and faculty as they retired. Today we have an email list of over 100 people, but many are virtual hikers being reminded each week of places they had enjoyed! We are not an official university club, but rather a gathering of outdoor devotees with a university connection.

An email list and schedule of hikes are maintained by Suzanne Stensaas and Bill Gray. Email notices go out 5-7 days ahead with date, time, carpool location and leader along with the description of the trip, distance and elevation, so you can see if it is for you. We are always looking for leaders, and since we go every week we need about 25 leaders who will share in planning and help organize. Our usual group size is 8-14. Hiking on the trail is a good way to keep up with old friends and make new friends with similar interests. Contact Bill Gray, cyberflora@xmission.com, or Suzanne Stensaas, suzanne.stensaas@hsc.utah.edu to be placed on the email list.

Emeriti Club Dues

All who are named emeritus/a by the Trustees of the University of Utah automatically become members of the Professors Emeriti Club. Membership comes with no additional requirements. However, the Club does provide many benefits and, accordingly, solicits dues from members who wish to support our programs. Annual Dues are $12.00 for an individual, $24 for a couple, and can be paid when submitting the Luncheon Reservation Form found immediately below.

Member dues are one of two resources that support Club activities. The Academic Vice President's Office also provides a nominal annual stipend. The Club's Executive Board arranges a variety of ongoing activities, including monthly luncheons with special presentations by notable speakers; overseas trips; weekly hikes and additional multi-day outdoor activities; special events with the Utah Symphony/Opera, the University's School of Music, Pioneer Theatre, and more. Where applicable, special ticket prices include a small subsidy to make events affordable to all. The Club also produces a monthly newsletter throughout the academic year (eight issues) to keep members informed of all sponsored activities and events. And the Board continually advocates for emeriti faculty benefits and privileges. Your dues help support these activities and benefits.
